

The 1982-83 Lahey Lecture

Photo: Yale University Office of Public Information

Cleanth Brooks Place in Southern Literature

Cleanth Brooks is Gray Professor Emeritus of Rhetoric, Yale University. One of the most influential critics of our time, he is the author of numerous books and articles including: The Well Wrought Urn; Modern Poetry and The Tradition; Understanding Poetry (with Robert Penn Warren); William Faulkner: The Yoknapatawpha Country; A Shaping Joy; William Faulkner: Toward Yoknapatawpha and Beyond.

Thursday, September 30, 1982 at 8:30 pm
Drummond Science Auditorium (Room DA 105)
Loyola Campus
7141 Sherbrooke Street West
Information: 482-0320 Local 534

Sponsored by the English Department

CONCORDIA
UNIVERSITY

